Did you know ??

Cupid was a Greek god.
Literally. Yes, that cute little chubby baby with the bow and arrow we associate with Valentine's Day started out way back in 700 B.C. as the Greeks' handsome, virile god, Eros. Able to make mortals fall in love (or hate) with his magical arrows, he was remade into Cupid by the Romans around 4th century BCE. But, as Time.com reports, it wasn't until the turn of the 19th century that Cupid became the face of Valentine's Day for his "love creating abilities."
